FOREWORD

A welcome to Nashville's most coveted addresses.

Middle Tennessee has quietly become one of the most consequential luxury markets in the country. The migration of capital, talent, and taste from California, the Northeast, and the Midwest has reshaped what a luxury home in Nashville looks like — and what it demands of the buyer who pursues it.

This guide is built for the discerning buyer. It is the same playbook I use with relocating executives, founders, performers, and multi-generational families who expect their advisor to know the off-market house before it ever hits the MLS — and to manage every detail with the discretion the price tag deserves.

On the pages that follow you'll find the current state of the $1.5M+ market, profiles of the neighborhoods that matter, the seven-step process I run for every client, and the checklists that prevent costly missteps. Every market figure is drawn from Realtracs MLS data and published market reporting, and the sources are listed at the back. When you're ready, my team and I are here.

MEDIAN SALE PRICE $1.5M+ HOMES · LAST 6 MONTHS	MONTHS OF SUPPLY $1.5M+ HOMES	TENNESSEE STATE INCOME TAX

Realtracs MLS, residential listings priced $1.5M+ in Davidson and Williamson counties, as of October 19, 2026: 1,233 closings in the last 6 months, 1,191 active. Months of supply is our calculation.

SECTION ONE

The 2026 market, at a glance.

Buyers have more choice this fall than at any point in years. Across Davidson and Williamson counties, 1,191 homes priced at $1.5M or more are on the market against roughly 206 closings a month — about 5.8 months of supply. Across the ten-county region, active inventory averaged 14,249 homes in September, up 8% from a year earlier, and the 30-year mortgage rate has moved back above 7%.

That is leverage for a well-prepared buyer, not a buyer's market. The typical $1.5M+ home that sold in the last six months still went under contract in 40 days and closed at 98.3% of its list price. The best homes move quickly; the overpriced ones sit, and those are where negotiation pays.

Read the chart: Belle Meade trades in a class of its own, while Green Hills, Forest Hills and Brentwood sit within about $300,000 of one another at the $2M+ level. Several neighborhood medians rest on small samples, so treat them as direction, not appraisal.

Who is buying Middle Tennessee.

A large share of Middle Tennessee's luxury demand comes from households relocating from higher-cost metros, alongside local move-up buyers and families consolidating into a forever home. Knowing who you are competing with tells you how fast to move and how to structure an offer.

Where Nashville's out-of-town home shoppers are searching from

Top metros by net inflow of Redfin users searching to move to Nashville, April–June 2026

01	02	03
Los Angeles	Seattle	Chicago

Redfin migration data reflects home searches by Redfin users, not completed moves or $1.5M+ purchases specifically.

Who they are: Tech founders and operators, senior finance professionals, private-business owners and physicians, and entertainment-industry families drawn by the music economy — many working remotely or on hybrid schedules, all drawn by Tennessee's lack of a state income tax.

What they want: Single-family estates with land, privacy, modern infrastructure (fiber, EV, geothermal), proximity to top private schools, and access to a private club. They are well-advised, time-constrained, and decisive when the right property appears.

How they pay: With the 30-year fixed rate above 7% this fall, many luxury buyers are paying cash or using portfolio and private-bank loans. Strong financing and clean terms are often what separate the winning offer from the rest.

> A NOTE FROM JASON
>
> "A relocating buyer typically has 30 to 60 days to find a home before their next chapter starts. My job is to make sure that timeline doesn't force a compromise on the home itself."

Where the market is — and where it is headed.

Luxury demand is still growing: Franklin alone recorded 441 single-family sales at $1.5M or more over the past year, 240 of them at $2M+. But homes are taking longer to sell, and the higher the price, the longer the wait — which is exactly where a buyer gains room to negotiate.

Months of supply, all price points

COUNTY	JUNE	JULY	AUGUST	SEPTEMBER
Davidson	5.69	5.97	6.89	6.46
Williamson	4.01	4.59	5.18	5.33
Ten-county region	4.80	4.92	5.59	5.41

Realtracs MLS, each month as first reported, via Grant Hammond, Compass RE.

What this means for you: Up to about $3M the market is balanced — four to five and a half months of supply — so the best-priced homes still draw quick, competitive offers. Above $3M, supply runs past nine months and contracts take noticeably longer, giving buyers real negotiating room. The outlook from local broker Grant Hammond: if rates hold at 7% or higher, expect contracts to run below last year through December and supply to cross six months this winter, with prices holding near last year. The market is moving on two tracks, and the right representation is the difference between winning a generational property and overpaying for one.

SECTION TWO

What defines luxury in Middle Tennessee.

In a market where a single street can hold $1.5M new builds and $15M estates, 'luxury' is defined less by price and more by the combination of land, light, craftsmanship, and lifestyle. The list below is what my buyers consistently weigh. New construction sets the bar: in Brentwood, 45% of $2M+ sales over the past year were homes built in 2024 or later.

- Architectural distinction — named architects, transitional or modern Southern designs, intentional siting on the lot.
- Bespoke craftsmanship — quarter-sawn millwork, honed-stone surfaces, custom steel and glass.
- Outdoor program — saltwater pools, covered loggias, outdoor kitchens, fireplaces, sport courts, equestrian facilities.
- Smart-home integration — Lutron / Crestron / Control4 tied to lighting, shades, audio, security, EV charging.
- Privacy & security — gated entries, perimeter fencing, camera systems, monitored alarms, mature landscape screening.
- Wellness & sustainability — spa baths, home gyms, geothermal HVAC, solar with battery backup, low-VOC finishes.
- Secondary spaces — wine rooms, golf simulators, theaters, guest quarters, dedicated home offices and studios.
- Location DNA — proximity to a top private school, a country club, or a marquee retail and dining corridor.

Brentwood figure: 122 of 269 $2M+ sales in 37027, rolling 12 months, Realtracs MLS via Nashville Home Guru.

>
> "Buyers regularly tell me they could find any one of these features elsewhere. The reason they buy a Middle Tennessee home is that, here, they can have all of them — on the right street — for a fraction of what the same lifestyle costs in Los Angeles, Manhattan, or Miami."

SECTION THREE

Where to buy in 2026.

Each Middle Tennessee submarket has its own character, price discipline, and resale rhythm — and public data is reported in different price bands, so each card notes what it measures. Below is the version of this story I tell my private clients.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY · 30 MIN SOUTH OF DOWNTOWN

Franklin

Williamson County's anchor: historic Main Street, a top-rated school system, and a deep bench of master-planned communities. One of the most liquid luxury submarkets in the Southeast, with strong resale across price points.

441	240	42–81	94–98%
$1.5M+ SALES PAST 12 MONTHS	$2M+ SALES PAST 12 MONTHS	MEDIAN DAYS TO CONTRACT · $1.5M+	SALE-TO-FIRST-ASK $1.5M+ BANDS

Detached single-family, 12 months ending Sep 28, 2026, Realtracs MLS via Nashville Home Guru. Ranges run from the $1.5–2M band to $3M+.

WHAT BUYERS LOVE

- Westhaven — golf, resort amenities, walkable town center; 243 sales past year at a $1.54M median.
- Downtown Franklin — historic district homes with verandas and walkable charm.
- Laurelbrooke — gated estates on 1+ acre lots; 13 sales at a $3.2M median.
- Berry Farms / McEwen — newer master-planned, townhome through estate options.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY · 20 MIN SOUTH OF DOWNTOWN

Brentwood

Family-focused, country-club anchored, and home to Middle Tennessee's most prestigious private-school cluster. About a quarter of Brentwood closings are now at $2M or more, and 91% of those sit on the Williamson County side of 37027.

WHAT BUYERS LOVE

- Governors Club — guard-gated golf community; $3.95M median $2M+ sale.
- Rosebrooke & Meadow Lake — the $5M+ tier, at $5.06M and $5.62M medians.
- Annandale & Hampton Reserve — limited inventory, exceptional resale; often trade quietly.
- Old Hickory Blvd. corridor — mature 1–3 acre lots, iconic Brentwood addresses.

In-town & estate country.

DAVIDSON COUNTY · 10 MIN FROM DOWNTOWN

Belle Meade

Nashville's most established old-money address — a 3.1 sq mile incorporated city with its own police force and the historic Belle Meade Country Club. Inventory is structurally scarce, so buyers who are pre-approved and ready to act when the right home surfaces have the edge.

$4.4M	96.5%	71 days	5.6 mo
MEDIAN $2M+ SALE 23 SALES · 12 MO	SALE-TO-LIST 3 MO TO AUG	MEDIAN DAYS ON MARKET	MONTHS OF SUPPLY 37205 · AUG

$2M+ median: Belle Meade subdivision, Realtracs via Nashville Home Guru. Sale-to-list and days on market: City of Belle Meade, all sales (13), Redfin, 3 months ending Aug 2026. Supply: zip-level Realtracs data via The Coleman Johns Group.

WHAT BUYERS LOVE

- Historic Belle Meade — classic estate streets like Tyne, Lynnwood, and Page Road.
- Belle Meade Links — smaller-footprint homes for downsizers.
- The Highlands — a newer enclave of transitional builds.
- West Meade — $3.23M median $2M+ sale across 32 sales; a broader set of choices nearby.

DAVIDSON COUNTY · 8 MIN FROM DOWNTOWN

Green Hills & Forest Hills

Sophisticated city living: walkable retail, top public and private schools, and a mix of renovated ranches, new modern builds, and luxury condominiums. Green Hills offers more $2M+ choice than any other Nashville neighborhood, while neighboring Forest Hills trades on wooded acre-plus lots and privacy.

GREEN HILLS MEDIAN $2M+ · 48 SALES	MEDIAN $/SQ FT 37215 · $2M+	MONTHS OF SUPPLY 37215 · AUG	DAVIDSON $2–3M HOMES CLOSED BELOW ASK

$2M+ figures: subdivision and zip-level, rolling 12 months, Realtracs via Nashville Home Guru. Supply: Green Hills and Forest Hills share 37215 in Realtracs reporting, via The Coleman Johns Group.

WHAT BUYERS LOVE

- Forest Hills — 1 acre+ lots, mature trees, an active rebuild market; $2.7M median $2M+ sale.
- Oak Hill — estate lots and privacy; $3.34M median across 26 $2M+ sales.
- Hillsboro-West End (37212) — $3.07M median at $654 a foot, the county's highest rate.
- Sylvan Park & The Nations (37209) — 17 $2M+ sales at a $2.3M median.

Estates, acreage, and the new frontier.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY · 35–45 MIN FROM DOWNTOWN

Leiper's Fork & Arrington

For buyers seeking 5 to 100+ acres, sweeping vistas, and meaningful privacy. Home to celebrity-grade compounds, equestrian properties, working farms, and new gated estate developments. Limited inventory, longer cycles, extraordinary lifestyle — and, for buyers, real room to negotiate.

$1.98M	92.6%	6 acres	1 of 25
MEDIAN SALE 25 CORRIDOR SALES	MEDIAN SALE-TO-FIRST-ASK	MEDIAN PARCEL	CLOSED ABOVE FIRST ASK

Leiper's Fork corridor roads, recent closed sales, Realtracs via Nashville Home Guru (Oct 2026); range $550K–$17.5M.

Land is where buyers hold the most leverage. Across Davidson and Williamson, 258 land, lot and farm listings at $1.5M+ are active against 78 closings in the last six months — roughly 20 months of supply — and those closings landed at a median 94.2% of list. At the very top, the market prices by the acre: an 80-acre Old Hillsboro Road estate closed at $17.5M over the past year.

Land and farm figures: Realtracs MLS, list price $1.5M+, as of Oct 19, 2026; months of supply is our calculation. Top closing: Realtracs via Nashville Home Guru, 12 months ending Sep 28, 2026.

WHAT BUYERS LOVE

- Leiper's Fork village — historic farmhouses, art galleries, walkable Main Street.
- Arrington / College Grove — large-acreage estates, vineyards, equestrian.
- New gated estate communities — multi-acre homesites for custom builds.
- Surrounding farms — agricultural-zoned generational land.

>
> "Many of the best estates in Middle Tennessee change hands through relationships, not signs in yards. That's where the right representation pays for itself many times over."

SECTION FOUR

The seven-step luxury process.

Every Nashville Luxury List engagement runs on the same disciplined framework. We move quickly, but never hurriedly — and we never let a single detail fall through the cracks.

01 · DISCOVERY

A one-hour private consultation. We clarify lifestyle, priorities, school requirements, timeline, and the deal structure that fits your broader financial picture. Outcome: a written buyer brief.

02 · FINANCIAL READINESS

Proof of funds, jumbo or portfolio lender pre-approval, and an introduction to my preferred lenders, CPAs, and wealth advisors if you don't have local relationships in place.

03 · CURATED HOME SEARCH

On-market listings filtered to your brief, plus active outreach to my network of agents, builders, and homeowners for off-market and coming-soon properties.

04 · PRIVATE TOURS

Concierge-scheduled showings — including evenings, weekends, and virtual walkthroughs when you can't be here in person. Builder walks for new construction.

05 · OFFER & NEGOTIATION

Pricing strategy backed by comp analysis — including how long the home has sat and what similar homes closed at versus asking — plus terms architecture and a quiet, professional conversation with the listing agent to win on more than just dollars.

06 · INSPECTIONS & APPRAISAL

Specialty inspections for pools, septic, geothermal, smart-home tech, roofing, and structural elements. Appraisal coordination with your lender.

07 · CLOSING & CONCIERGE HANDOFF

Title, wire, walk-through, and a curated handoff to landscapers, interior designers, security, AV, and household staff if needed.

SECTION FIVE

Key considerations before you tour.

These are the issues I want every prospective luxury buyer thinking about before we walk through the first front door. In today's market they matter more than ever: across Davidson and Williamson, the average $1.5M+ home closed at 97.4% of its list price over the last six months, and the homes that had sat the longest are where the negotiating room is.

FINANCING & PROOF OF FUNDS

- Pre-approval from a jumbo or portfolio lender, ideally with a private-banking relationship.
- Pre-cleared underwriting on assets if using a stock-backed line.
- Liquid proof-of-funds letter, refreshed within 30 days.
- If buying through an LLC or trust, formation documents ready for title.

DUE DILIGENCE & INSPECTIONS

- Specialty: roofing & flashing (slate, copper, standing-seam).
- Specialty: pool, spa, equipment, automation.
- Specialty: septic, well, geothermal, water filtration.
- Specialty: smart-home, AV, low-voltage wiring.
- Survey and boundary, easements, encroachments.
- Wood-destroying organisms and moisture intrusion.
- Radon, mold, and lead (for historic properties).
- HOA documents, CC&Rs, transfer fees.

NEGOTIATE BEYOND PRICE

- Furnishings and designer FF&E (often six-figure value).
- Art, fixtures, and chandeliers explicitly included.
- Flexible closing and lease-back terms.
- Repair credits vs. price reductions for tax purposes.
- Builder allowances, finish upgrades, or warranty extensions.
- HOA dues paid through year-end at seller's expense.

Realtracs MLS, residential, list price $1.5M+, Davidson and Williamson counties, closings in the 6 months to October 19, 2026.

SECTION SIX

Tennessee's tax advantage.

Tennessee has no state income tax, no tax on wages, and no Hall tax on investment income (fully repealed in 2021), and its inheritance tax was repealed in 2016. For a buyer relocating from a top-bracket state, the annual savings can cover the cost of the move within the first year — and compound from there.

The compounding math: A single filer earning $2M of wage and investment income in California owes roughly $237,000 a year in state income tax, including the state's 1% surcharge on income above $1M. Over a ten-year hold, that is about $2.4M of after-tax cash flow kept — before considering Tennessee's comparatively low property tax rates.

Illustrative estimate using 2025 California single-filer brackets; actual savings depend on filing status, income mix and residency. Not tax advice — confirm with your CPA.

RELOCATION CHECKLIST

- Establish Tennessee domicile: driver's license, voter registration, vehicle titling.
- Update estate planning documents to Tennessee law (a TN trust attorney referral is included).
- School admissions timing — private school decision deadlines run November–February.
- Coordinate moving company access; many gated communities require a certificate of insurance in advance.
- Set up utilities, HOA registrations, and club access.
- Open accounts at a Tennessee-based bank for closing-day wire convenience.
- Schedule a Nashville lifestyle day: schools, clubs, dining, route-planning.
- Engage household staffing and landscape teams (we maintain a vetted bench).

SECTION SEVEN

Trends shaping 2026.

What today's luxury buyer is asking for — and what tomorrow's buyer will expect when you eventually sell.

Transitional modern is winning.

The pure modern-farmhouse era is over. Buyers now want warm modernism: limestone, oak, copper, and limewashed brick framed in clean architectural lines.

New construction sets the bar.

In Brentwood, 45% of $2M+ sales over the past year were homes built in 2024 or later. Older homes compete on lot, location and price — which can be an opportunity for buyers willing to renovate.

Outdoor living is non-negotiable.

Pools, covered loggias, outdoor kitchens, and putting greens have moved from premium upgrade to baseline expectation in the $3M+ band.

Wellness is the new amenity.

Cold-plunge rooms, saunas, gyms with sport floors, and lap pools are appearing in homes that would never have included them five years ago.

Builder pedigree matters.

A handful of established Middle Tennessee custom builders command pricing premiums and resale loyalty; we know their track records and their warranties.

Energy resilience.

Solar with battery backup, geothermal, high-amperage EV charging, and generator transfer switches are increasingly expected on $5M+ new construction.

Private and coming-soon listings.

More high-end homes are shared first through agent networks — private exclusives and coming-soon listings — before they reach the public MLS. A relationship with an active luxury advisor is how you see them early.

Brentwood figure: 122 of 269 $2M+ sales in 37027, rolling 12 months, Realtracs MLS via Nashville Home Guru.

SECTION EIGHT

Why Middle Tennessee keeps outperforming.

Corporate investment that compounds.

Oracle's campus on Nashville's East Bank is under construction, and HCA, Asurion, AllianceBernstein and others continue to anchor a high-income workforce. Job growth cooled to roughly 1% in 2025, but the long-term pipeline of corporate projects remains intact.

In-migration with purchasing power.

Nashville remains a top destination for out-of-town home shoppers, led this year by searchers from Los Angeles, Seattle and Chicago — buyers arriving with equity from higher-cost markets.

Cultural gravity.

Music, film, hospitality, and unmatched live-music infrastructure draw creative capital. The Frist, the Schermerhorn, Bridgestone Arena, a new East Bank stadium slated for 2027, and a steady flow of festivals make Middle Tennessee a destination, not a layover.

Land scarcity around the urban core.

Belle Meade, Forest Hills, and Brentwood are largely built out, and Williamson County zoning protects rural character. The supply of new, truly luxury inventory in the established neighborhoods remains structurally tight.

Tax and regulatory tailwinds.

No state income tax, comparatively low effective property tax rates, no inheritance tax, and a business-friendly regulatory posture.

Employment and projects: PNC Regional Economics Analysis, Nashville, April 2026. Search origins: Redfin migration data, April–June 2026.
